Antioch Camp, Village Proved Fine Hosts For Annual Convention of Royal Neighbors

Meeting Next Year To Be At Highland Park New Officers Chosen

Antioch and her Olson Camp of Royal Neighbors were declared tops as hosts at the annual county convention of Royal Neighbors Tuesday. The convention was held in the American Legion Home.

From the time the 100 guests were greeted by Mayor Murrill Cunningham and the local Neighbors, until they left, the visiting lodge members knew they were welcome.

They chose Highland Park as the meeting place next year and that camp and those from Deerfield and Lake Forest will serve as hosts. County officers chosen at Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. Bessie Peterson, orator; Mrs. Marion Kleven, past orator; Mrs. Dora Miller, vice orator; Mrs. Marie Weinberger, chancellor; Mrs. Annie Vander-Blomen, recorder-receiver. One hundred women attended.

County officers presiding over the afternoon session were Mrs. Kleven, orator; Mrs. Miller, past orator; Mrs. Mary Atkinson, vice orator; and Laura Thayer, recorder-receiver.

At the close of the afternoon dinner was served at Wesley Hall by the women of the Wesley Circle. The evening session conducted by Mrs. Kleven was quite colorful.

Mrs. Deborah Van Patten served as pianist; Penny Anderson as soloist; Barbara Wertz as flower girl; and Mary Wertz, Lorraine Gibbons, Joan Putnam, and Karen Horton as escorts.

Lindman's Marionettes from Lake Bluff provided entertainment.

Guests of honor introduced were Mrs. Anna M. Cooley of Moline, a supreme director, and Mrs. Gladys S. Ames of Gurnee, deputy of Lake and McHenry counties.

Mrs. Ames expressed her appreciation for help given by Lake County members, and reported that Cedar Lake Camp of Lake Villa and Olson Camp of Antioch had over-written their quotas.

Panthers Rest a Week, To Play Mukwonago

After a week's rest Coach Frank Buccell's Panthers will see action and plenty of it Friday against Mukwonago.

The Wilmet High coach and his players scouted the Lake Forest-Mukwonago game, studying the style of plan their opponents and aspirants for the Southern Lakes League title, have to offer.

Coach Buccell is planning to switch Wally Parteneimer from right end, where he was all-conference man last season, to right halfback. This is necessary because of his shortage of backfield men, but is advantageous because of Parteneimer's running ability. He was conference 440-yard champion in track.

Lee Jeffers will be used exclusively as an offensive end, with Gary Held, formerly a line backer taking his place on the defense.

Jeffers and Halfback Bob Horton, both injured in the Antioch game, will be back in the lineup tomorrow.

A chance to reminisce will be offered to Antioch parents next Wednesday night when the Antioch High School and its parent-teacher organization invites the public "back to school."

Old school days will be revived as mom and dad follow their children's regular class schedule during the evening.

A general assembly in the auditorium will open the program at 8 p.m. PTA president Wallace Anderson will address the assembly and introduce officers of the association.

A. L. Dittman, principal of the high school, will welcome the parents on behalf of the school and explain some of the academic function. The class schedules, which parents may secure before the assembly, will be explained by assistant principal Warren Polley.

The class "periods" will be an abbreviated four minutes each with three minute intervals between bells.

Parents will be able to discuss classroom procedures and their offspring's progress with class teachers during their visit.

Student council members are to serve as hall guides for the parents. Arm band designations will identify the guides.

A hospitality committee in the main hall of the school will write out identification slips for the visitors. Members of the committee include Cleo Hueber, Carol Mapletorpe, Ward Lear, and Melvin Stillson.

The school office secretarial staff composed of Edna Radke, Gladys Clarke, and Arlene Olszewski, are in charge of the distribution of class schedules.

After the conclusion of the miniature school day at 9:30 p.m., refreshments will be served during a social hour in the school cafeteria.

Hope Gone for Finding Eugene Prange Alive After 14-Day Search in Snow-Capped Mountains North of Missoula, Mont., and Mont. University

Parents to Return Home Saturday When Search Will Have Come to End

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Prange of Loon Lake road will arrive home Saturday from Missoula, Mont., where the unsuccessful hunt for their missing son, Lawrence Eugene, 20, has left them in doubt that he will be found.

A windswept, snow covered mountain 7,000 feet high where the young man, a student at Montana State University had gone to scout for mountain goats holds the secret of his whereabouts.

A force of searchers that at times numbered as many as 70 searched Mission Range mountain 60 miles north of Missoula in a vain effort to find Prange, who had been missing since Sept. 10. They used the helicopters, horses, walkie-talkies, electronic megaphones as they wove their way over trails and along waterways on the east side of the Mission Range mountain.

Lawrence Eugene Prange

Involved in the search were a dozen men of the Missoula County sheriff's posse, two deputy sheriffs, and 27 smokejumpers.

They watched for any evidence of smoke that might be a signal for aid, and even watched circling birds who usually hover over a person injured or dead, but there was no evidence.

Sequoits Play Warren In First Home Game At 8:30 P.M. Saturday

Lose to Wauconda 12-6 Through Many Penalties And Lacking Experience

Antioch's Sequoits take on Warren's Blue Devils in their first home game of the grid season Saturday at 8 p.m.

Sequoit coach Robert Walther is gearing this week's practice to find ways and means of containing the dangerous passing attack engineered by Warren's Corky White.

Walther plans to use a five man line when the expected wide open attack of the Blue Devils opens up. The Sequoits' offense is a matter of some concern. Four halfbacks are suffering from injuries and expect to see limited action if they play at all.

Vince Nauseda is currently suffering from a knee injury and isn't expected to play the full game. Jim Portalski wrenched his back during mid week practice. Chip Eberman had a recurrence of the knee injury which has been troubling him.

To cap matters one of the reserve backs has a severe charley horse. Despite these medical difficulties, Walther predicts the "inevitable improvement of young teams." The Sequoits have only six seniors on their 25 man squad.

Three men were called up from the frosh-soph squad earlier this season.

Warren lost its first game to Zion-Benton; then licked Elia-Vernon 15 to 6 last week. Its success or failure seems to be based upon aerial attack they mount plus White's keeper plays.

Antioch tied Wilmet in a non-league game and lost to Wauconda (continued on page 12)

Wisconsin on C.S.T. Next Sunday, But We Must Wait 'til Oct. 26

Wisconsin residents will get to sleep an hour longer Sunday as the Badger state returns to Central Standard time, but the residents of Illinois must wait until October 26 before they get that added rest. In the meantime the Wisconsinites must take the hour's difference into consideration when they come to Antioch to shop or attend meetings for the next four weeks. Plagued with the time difference for so many years, the neighbors on the north easily become used to it.

Church, Wright and Smith, to be Joined By County Candidates

Big Rally to Be Held By Antioch Republican Club at Grade School

A caravan of Republican candidates for state, national, and county office, will be in Antioch between 8:30 and 9 p.m. next Wednesday, Oct. 1.

Members of it will appear at the Antioch Grade School auditorium, Ted Kaptain, secretary of the Antioch Township Republican Men's Club announced.

Central Committee Chairman Robert Milton, Lake Forest, announced that in the group will be Gerald Smith, candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Warren Wright, candidate for state treasurer; Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church, of the 13th Congressional District, and others.

The caravan will arrive in the county during the morning visiting industrial places and then appearing in the early evening at the meeting of the Forward Division of the Waukegan Chamber of Commerce.

The motor procession will pick up county candidates and go first to Grant Township for a brief visit, because of the earlier visit there and then come directly to Antioch.

Secretary Kaptain said the regular meeting of the Antioch Township Republican Club usually is held at the American Legion Home, but that because of the expected large crowd the meeting has been moved to the grade school where everyone will be able to see and meet the candidates.

Intelligence of a Chicken

No one needs income more than the U. S. government. In the face of such a condition it will do the strangest things to cut off its own revenue. It will establish competing tax-exempt business activities which destroy the income of taxpaying industries, and, therefore, government income derived from them through taxes. It will operate its own business activities at a loss on top of that, all of which indicates the intelligence of a chicken.

A good example is parcel post which, under the law when it was established, was to pay its own way. Through parcel post, the government competes with private carriers for smaller packages. Of course the government can destroy any competitor because, by exempting its operations from taxation and other costs, it can put prices to the point of no competition. If it is good policy to have all the taxpayers pay part of the bill for the user of parcel post, why limit the size of packages at all—why not ship a tractor or a horse, or a cow by parcel post at below-cost rates. Why make any effort to hold down the government deficit or debt.

Just why the government would carry packages for less than cost when it doesn't furnish people with groceries or clothes at less than cost has no logical answer. Most people could live without sending a package by parcel post, but they couldn't live very well without food or clothes, so if we're going to have socialism in small doses, why not go whole hog and have it in larger doses on the theory that more voters would be attracted by bigger gifts of something for less.

What a Contrast!

The whole idea of communism, the communist leaders say, is to serve and benefit the masses of the people and make their lives fuller and happier. The whole idea of capitalism, these same communist leaders say, is to permit exploitation and oppression of the masses by a rich and powerful few.

An interesting sidelight on these ancient arguments is found in a chart issued by the National Industrial Conference Board. It shows the working time typical workers must put in to buy commodities in New York as against Moscow. It is revealing.

The New York worker earns enough money in half an hour to buy a pair of nylons for his wife—it takes the Moscow worker 7.2 hours. The New Yorker can earn a pair of shoes in just under 5 hours—in Moscow almost 50 hours are necessary. A suit costs the New York worker 3.3 days of working time—in Moscow the figure is a staggering 36.7 days, more than a solid month.

The same thing is true of food. A pound of sugar costs the American 3.1 minutes—the Russian worker 65.6 minutes. A pound of beef is earned in 22.1 minutes here, as against 91 minutes in the Soviet wonderland. The figures for a pound of butter are 21.9 minutes and 1793 minutes respectively. So it goes, down the list.

It would be well for all of us to remember this enormous contrast. And a good time to reflect on it is when we go shopping. For our retail stores are the show windows of the American system of making and distributing things on a competitive not a state-controlled price basis.

An Old Story

Four major food companies just reduced their prices of coffee simultaneously.

But there has been no cry about "controlled" prices such as we heard when steel and oil prices had to be raised recently.

Apparently it is not considered "collusion" by the politicians when prices drop. It seems to be pretty well understood that over-supply or lack of demand can cause reductions. But if prices go up for good and sufficient reasons, such as higher charges for raw materials, increased wages, crop shortages, etc., that's a different story—then the vote seekers cry plot to rob the consumer.

The steel and oil industries were hauled over the coals recently when they had to raise prices due to uncontrollable increases in the cost of production, over which they had no more control than did the food companies over conditions that caused the drop in coffee prices. Steel and oil will drop as well as increase in price. Our free market system calls for such adjustments.

Long Thin Lines of Steel

Two newspapers recently had things to say about the railroads that are deserving of national attention—and national remembrance.

The St. Johns, Arizona, Independent-News, said: "The fact is that no matter how many trucks we put on our highways, how many new roads we build, our country could not function a week without the long thin lines of steel crisscrossing America and the hundreds of thousands of cars carrying people and freight to every corner of the continent. More than 70 per cent of all the railroad mileage in the world is in the United States and Canada. Railroads are more responsible for our way of life and standard of living than any other one part of our economy."

The Canton, Ohio, Repository, said: "If they did not exist, the United States would have to invent them. . . ." That striking phrase illustrates that railroads are essential to our national life as we know it, and that we couldn't sustain this life without them.

This kind of thinking, obviously, governed Congress when it passed the Transportation Act of 1958—the first major legislation of its kind since before World War II. It also led to Congress' creation of a panel of experts to thoroughly study the problems surrounding the railroads and other carriers and to report back in a year.

Yes—if railroads didn't exist we'd had to invent them!

It Could Be You

When you see a fire engine go roaring by, you may wonder for a second or two "can it be headed for my house." Then you dismiss it from your mind. You might not be so complacent if the figures on fire losses were placed before you in big red letters.

During 1956, there were 865,561 reported fires in communities of 2,500 or more population which means that a fire started every 37 seconds.

Almost everything you own, from a house down to a dishpan, costs twice as much today as it did a comparatively few years back.

In most cases, even though you are carrying double the insurance you carried 15 years ago, you would still be out of pocket in replacing the things destroyed by fire. Your best protection is to see that every possible hazard around your property is reduced to the minimum. It is cheaper to call in an electrician or furnace man to make needed repairs and replacements than it is to call the fire department.

Letters to The Editor

Editor: Antioch News

Dear Sir:

I receive the Antioch News every week, a gift from my sister, and for some time, have been wanting to tell you how very much I enjoy it. I read the paper from front to back and especially liked the series of articles pertaining to the Indians in that part of the country, many years ago.

Frequently I read of some man or woman who was a classmate of mine at Antioch High. Many of those mentioned in the article about the reunion of the class of '33' were in school when I was there, but as near as I am able to remember, I graduated in the class of '31'. I was a member of the "Brett" tribe from Channel Lake, not the oldest and not the youngest, just one of the six girls and two boys.

The August 28th issue of your paper printed two articles which I think are wonderful. I have made copies of these articles, and am going to send one to the Seattle Times, one to the Seattle Post Intelligencer, and one to Mr. Dan McGovern, editor of two local newspapers, one which is published in Bellevue, Washington, the other in Renton, Washington where I formerly lived. I trust this meets with your approval. I wish every American could read these articles. The first one is "Real Secret Weapon," by Bill Butler, Manager field operations, Union Oil Company of California, the other "Censorship Through Taxation." Both appear on page two.

My mother, Mrs. Hannah Brett, first started going to Channel Lake in 1893. For many years she visited relatives there, then when she married and had children, we all spent every summer of our lives there. I remember many hot tiresome rides on the old Soo Line. Upon arrival usually Les Crandall transported us from the station to our cottage in his faithful model "T" Ford. Driving from Oak Park which was our home, to Antioch in those days was quite a ride with gravel and dirt roads all the way.

Once in a while I would be invited to spend Christmas vacation with the Fred Runyards. We spent our time sledding and ice skating. I still hold cherished memories of both summer and winter vacations. It was not until about 1930, that we made our permanent home at Channel Lake, where my mother still resides. Our address now is 15008 S. E. 51st St., Bellevue, Wash.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Enright A. Lorenz.

St. Catherine at Central, Falcons Beat Badgers Of Lake Geneva 13-12

The Salem Central Falcons will play the strong St. Catherine High School team from Racine Friday night at Salem after having won a thriller from Badger High of Lake Geneva before 1,400 fans last Friday, 13 to 12.

Coach Roger Terry's scrappy Falcons battled from a 6 to 0 Badger score and by taking advantages of fumbles, and intercepting passes to edge the visitors by one point.

It looked like a runaway for Lake Geneva at the start. The Badgers marched down the field from the kickoff in a series of passes and runs, and then Quarterback Bud Vorpapel went through the Falcon line 10 yards for a touchdown. The run for point failed.

Again and again the visitors threatened to score, but each time a Falcon man seized a fumble.

The Falcons came to life in the second quarter. Halfback Gene Schultz passed 14 yards to Lenny Krawczyk, end, who eluded the Badger defense and went into the end zone.

Again Lake Geneva came back and was within the Salem 20-yard line when a Salem lineman stole the ball, halting the drive.

Salem Central took the lead in the third quarter when Jim Long intercepted Vorpapel's pass and ran 26 yards for a touchdown. Quarterback Fred Lenz passed to Krawczyk for the extra point which resulted in victory.

The Badgers got their second touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 12-yard pass by Dick Kahn to halfback John LaDuc.

Salem linemen swarmed all over the passer in his effort to convert the extra point and the ball was batted down. This blocked the attempt to tie the score. Statistically the losers had the edge on Central, but Central rang up the greater score and that's what counts.

Salem Central now has won two games and lost one.

She's the Bird Woman

Meet Antioch's Nature Lady,
Friend of Every Creature

If There's Room for It
In the Wildwood Area,
Mrs. Lomax Will Have It

By Noel Duerden

Probably no one in the lakes region has a greater love for life than Mrs. Elinor Lomax who lives in the appropriately named Wildwood Subdivision. In her private zoo she can count 26 birds and animals of 19 different species. Neighbors call her the "bird woman."

But her rustic wood-paneled five-room home is getting too small for all the wildlife that calls it home and her abiding husband James, a carpenter who works in Waukegan, has promised an acreage where there will be room to expand. "After all," he says, "if someone brought their pet elephant here, there wouldn't be enough room."

Mrs. Lomax, a lively person herself, draws her deep understanding of animals from her father and she says it looks as if she will pass it on to the second of her three sons, 11-year-old Johnny. Like the animals she keeps, instinct seems to play a leading role in the unusual desire to live with and love them. Six-year-old Ricky doesn't seem to have it.

Animals Are Everywhere

In every room in the house birds sing or animals play. The front entry of her bright yellow home has the cages of Tweety and Tina, the cockateels from Australia, and the Sputniks, the orange-cheeked wax bills. The cockateel is a miniature cockatoo in brilliant colors. The wax bills, members of the finch family are about two inches long and "remind you of bumblebees," Mrs. Lomax says.

In the living room is Mortimer, the Half Moon parrot from Mexico. Chico, the talking mynah bird from India, is in his cage next to the kitchen telephone where he can "hello," "good boy" and "cut it out" to phone callers and visitors. Peppy, the yellow faced blue parakeet sings for all from his cage in the cooking alcove.

Alley's No Problem

In the basement is Alley, the Amazon-breed alligator. He lives in a water bowl and doesn't pose much of a problem for the Lomax family for a few years yet. Alley is a miniature alligator measuring only about a foot long. It will be about 10 years before he attains his expected adult length of three feet.

Also in the basement are Pa and Ma Kettle, the brown and white and soft guinea pigs. They cause no trouble, noise or effort.

Probably the favorite of the family is Missy Blossom, the descended skunk. She's Johnny's pal.

Raccoon Has Leash

Outside is Zorro, the pet raccoon. Sure, he has his own leash and loves to go for walks and ride about on Jimmy's back. Jimmy, 13, is a student at Grant High School and says the leash is necessary only to keep Zorro from climbing trees. "One time we spent more than two hours with extension ladders, etc., trying to coax him out of that tree," Mrs. Lomax said, pointing to a 100-footer in the front yard.

Along the back fence are pens for two ringneck pheasants, two golden pheasants, both from China or Tibet; a pair of lady amherst pheasants, two white Pekin ducks and a nest of native-born Illinois quail.

More Animals Coming

"You ought to come back next week," Mrs. Lomax invited. "We're going to get a pair of African geese and a set of banty chickens. The banty chickens (a rooster and two hens) are going to be put to work hatching peacock eggs which we're getting next year."

Let's see, how many animals have I counted? If any have been left out it's Billy and Joey the crows. Billy was away last week but Joey was in and out, eating grapes from Mrs. Lomax' mouth and hiding clothespins from off the wash line.

Although she has no favorites, there is one set of wildlife which probably always will be Mrs. Lomax' heart's desire. That's to have a pair of pink and white Roseate Cockatoos. But they, like fur coats to most women, are too expensive.

Children Friends of All

Instinct tells you what animals or birds can be together, Mrs. Lomax says. The skunk and raccoon can't be put together for example. But children—they go with almost any animal. The crows love to pull the shoelaces of the neighbor girl as she runs.

The mynah bird calls the boys out of open windows in the summer.

Although Mrs. Lomax has been an animal lover since she was a little girl, she never got much of a chance to keep much more than a canary, parakeet, dog, and king snake and lizard in Chicago. But after getting married and moving to Antioch 10 years ago, any animal is welcome.

Had Hawk, Squirrel, Collie

Since being here she also has had a pet hawk and squirrel. Both since have been turned back to nature. "But I won't do it again," she laments, "it's too hard on me." The squirrel comes back to visit every week or two. A collie dog she had was poisoned.

One would think that such a person as Mrs. Lomax is a friend of all living things. Not so. She is mortally afraid of spiders. And her husband, James, while he doesn't share her understanding of all animals, is fearful of snakes. "So we won't have either snakes or spiders—by common agreement," she admits. James once wasn't wild about having any animals, but "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em," he says.

At the Lomax residence, you have to join 'em or else they'll join you.

Here's Tips For a
'Do-It-Yourself' Zoo

Maybe you too, would like to raise wild animals. Here's Mrs. Elinor Lomax' secret of success with wildlife.

"Don't rough up an animal. Let them know only kindness from your hands. If they play rough while they're young, they'll want to play rough when they grow up and then they don't know their own strength," she says.

In all her years of caring for and raising animals, she yet has to be bitten or scratched, except by accident.

Her husband James has not been so fortunate. He keeps away from Mortimer, the parrot. Mrs. Lomax explains it by saying that Mortimer can sense that James is a little apprehensive and thus he gets nipped—"once hard enough to draw blood."

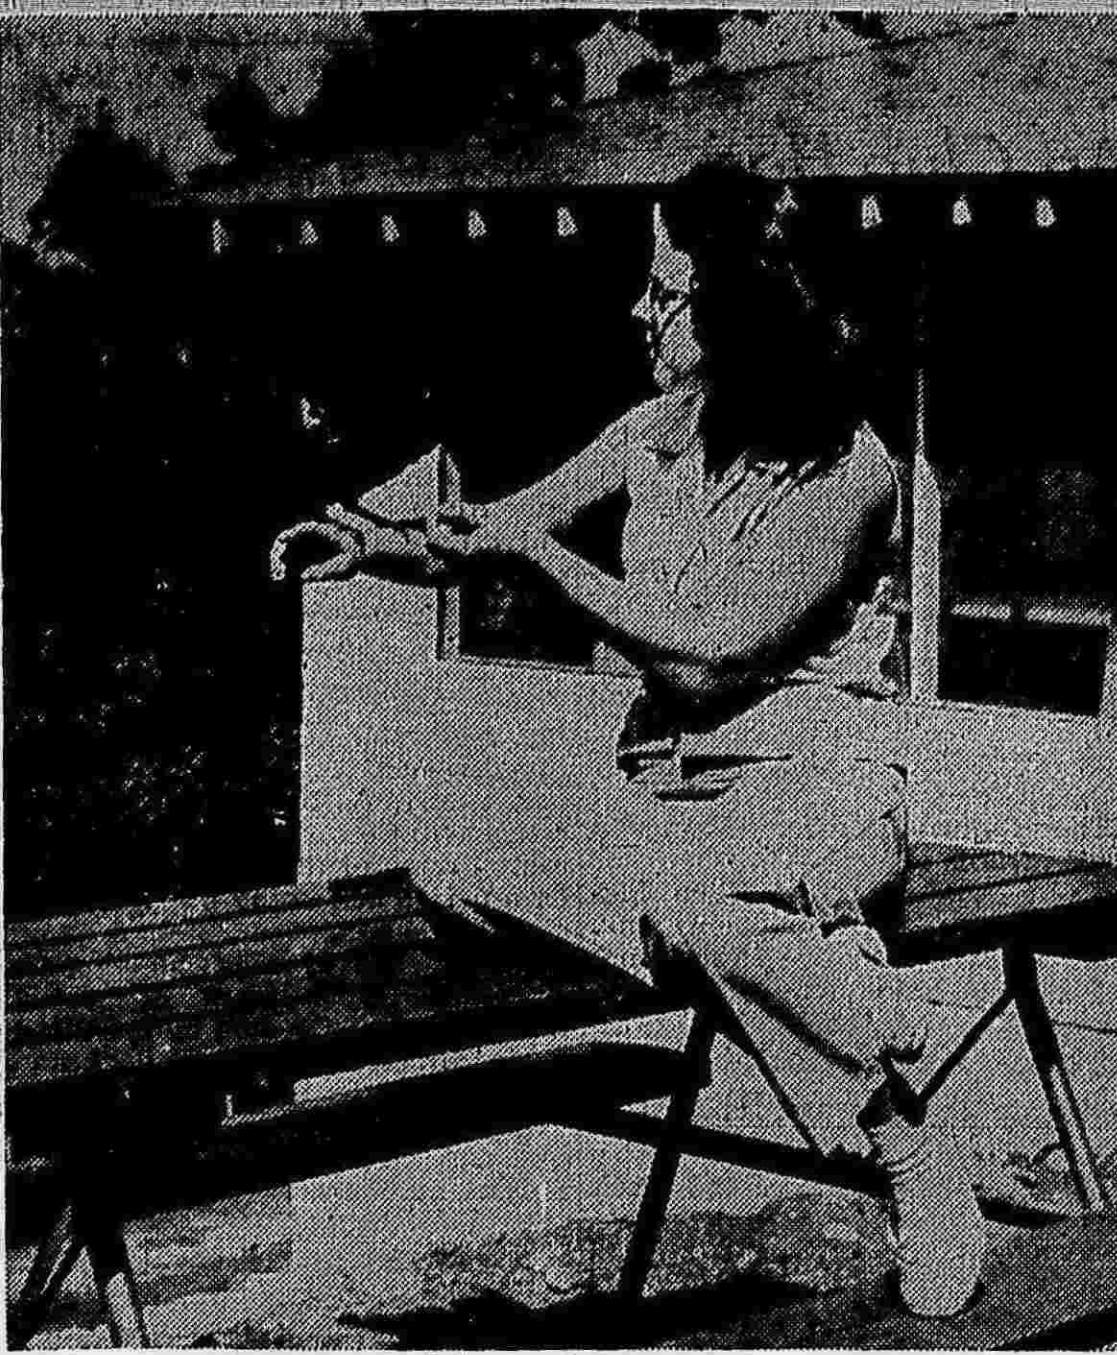

That's the secret with most animals—they can tell by instinct if you are afraid or a friend. They react accordingly, she adds.

But before you dash out and buy up the exotic animal of your choice, Mrs. Lomax adds this caution:

"Be sure to read up all you can about the animal—his habits, what he eats and how to treat him. You can match food even for animals foreign to this land."

"And if you tire of the animal, don't just turn him out to be on his own. Give him freedom to come and go as he likes and soon, if you don't lock him up, he'll find those of his own kind and return of his own will," she says.

But she also feels people have to use their instincts.

Around the Lomax residence in Wildwood Subdivision, feeding time is a happy time for 26 native and not-so-native animals. Here, Mrs. Elinor Lomax, Antioch's "Bird Woman" shows why animals love her. That's Joey the Crow eating one of his favorite foods, a grape.

Young Johnny, 11, and Ricky, 6, know that Missy Blossom is harmless — just wants to be loved like any kitty. But even if she wasn't safe, she would be welcome at the Lomax residence. One was at one time and there were no "accidents."

Reginald Foorte

Rugby school. He went to London when he was 16 and studied at the Royal College of Music. The following year he was made a Fellow of the Royal College of Organists and he was appointed organist and choirmaster of St. Mary's church near the Marble Arch.

The next major event in Foorte's life was when he met a pupil of Leschetizky who taught Paderewski. Through his influence Foorte gave up the organ altogether and became a solo pianist, which included playing concertos with orchestras.

When the first organs were installed in cinema houses, Mr. Foorte became a theatre organist, and was the first theatre organist to broadcast and to make recordings in Europe. He played at the opening of 42 new theatres in 10 different countries.

From 1941 to 1951 Mr. Foorte returned to the concert stage, giving five recitals a week, each in a different city or town. His schedule was so strenuous that he welcomed an invitation from an old friend to come to the United States. Here he joined the Organ Division of the Baldwin Piano Co. He is also organist of Chicago's Temple Shalom.

Illinois Tax Facts

A paring of spending programs and not a boost in taxes is a prudent answer to the forecast deficit of $12,223,000,000 in the Federal budget for the 1959 fiscal year, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois said today. With the most unbalanced budget in peacetime history, higher taxes are already being considered on gasoline and postal rates to pull the Federal budget out of the red.

For example, the automobile, once described as a luxury, can no longer be so classified. Today it is a necessity which is part of the American way of life. A further increase in the Federal tax on gasoline not only hurts the automobile industry, but also hits the average motorist's pocketbook a little bit deeper. Statistics prove that the total motor fuel taxes paid by the motorist are now a sizable item.

In 1919 the average price nationally of a gallon of gasoline at the service station was 25.41c, gasoline tax, .06c, total price 25.47c. However, in 1957 the average price of a gallon of gasoline at the same service station was 22.09c, gasoline tax 8.85c, total price 30.94c. The price of a gallon of gasoline in 1957 was 3.32c less than in 1919, but the total price paid per gallon in 1957 was 5.47c higher than it was in 1919, simply because the total gasoline tax had increased during such perlod from .06c to 8.85c, a gain of 8.79c per gallon.

A few additional figures prove that gasoline taxes, State and Federal, are a good part of the average tax cost per vehicle in Illinois:

Gasoline taxes, State & Federal	$ 61.20
Motor License Fees	24.19
State Sales Tax (automotive)	18.69
Property Taxes on Vehicles	28.09
Federal Automotive Taxes	30.88

What the Ill. motorist pays $161.03 Soaking the taxpayers is not the answer to an unbalanced budget. Expenditure control is the answer—it is not old fashioned and should never be forgotten. Paring projected spending programs and appropriating with caution on the part of Congress, will not only help the budget, but will cause an already over-burdened taxpayer to smile once again.

Hope Gone for Finding..

with him into the mountain was found last Saturday on the northwest side of Lindberg lake, three miles from a snow-covered area. It wildly eluded its would be rescuers and would not approach anyone but Prange's girl friend, Susan Heck of Westfield, N. J., another wildlife technology student at Montana University.

The animal gave no evidence of any injury from a wild animal. Officials of the Forest Service openly expressed the belief that young Prange is dead, otherwise the dog would not have left him.

Fishermen in the area of the lake said they had seen no man with a dog.

Had Prange been injured not too severely, he could have summoned help by the firing of his rifle.

Lawrence Salesman, blood-father of the youth, who lives southwest of Grayslake, made the trip to Missoula and came back Monday. He said that the authorities at Missoula had done everything that was humanly possible to do in hunting for his boy.

He said that he was informed that a day or two after Lawrence went into the mountain there was a violent wind which splintered large trees. He said it is possible that the youth may have been in the way of a falling tree, and the dog escaped. How the dog got free of its back outfit has not been determined.

Remain a Little Longer

Lawrence's father, through adoption, Herbert Prange, and his own mother, Mrs. Prange are remaining a few days longer, still in hope that the body may be found. They are fully aware that their son could not have stood the bitter cold wind of the mountain this long. They are preparing to bring his belongings back with them.

The young man lived alone in a cabin in a canyon above Montana State University. During the summer he remained at Missoula working as a guard at a swimming pool. While the search was in progress, friends in the community where the Prange's live made up a purse of $100 and sent it to Missoula to help pay the cost of the hunt for Lawrence.

Lawrence, a graduate of Antioch Township High School, was a lover of wildlife and the woodlands while a young boy. He was a boy scout and had a life badge. He lacked but a few points to become an Eagle Scout, James Horton, scoutmaster said.

"He taught me everything I know about the woods," Horton said. Cousin, Friend Enroll

Dee Weaver of Winthrop Harbor, cousin of Eugene Prange, and a companion, Ronald Wallace of Zion, have enrolled as freshmen at Montana University. They were to have been met there by young Prange—a junior—when they arrived at Missoula, but learned that he was missing. They helped in the search.

The two boys were admirers of Prange and intended to follow the same course of study that he did.

Nuclear Power Plant Nears Half-way Mark, To be Finished in 1960

Work on the Dresden Nuclear Power Station project has now passed the half-way mark, according to J. Harris Ward, executive vice-president of Commonwealth Edison Company. He said it is expected the plant will be in regular operation some six months ahead of the original scheduled completion date of December 7, 1960.

Ward spoke Friday before a group of representatives of northern Illinois newspapers and radio stations who inspected the project on a tour arranged by Edison's Public Service Company Division. Robert Gaston represented the Antioch News.

Hosts for the press tour included Morgan F. Murphy, vice-president in charge of public relations and advertising; H. W. Otto, vice-president of the Public Service Company's Northern division, and L. E. Pierson, vice-president of the Western division.

Largest Power Reactor in U. S.

"Dresden's nuclear power reactor is the largest under construction in the United States," Ward said, "and we expect this will be the first full-scale privately-owned atomic power plant to go into operation in the United States. There is no government subsidy."

General Electric Company, which designed the Dresden boiling water reactor project, is building the plant for a contract price of $45,000,000.

Capacity of the station will be 180,000 kilowatts, sufficient to meet all the electricity needs of a city of 250,000 population. Its output will feed into the Edison-Public Service interconnected transmission system. The outstanding feature of the plant is a 190-foot steel sphere which will house the nuclear power reactor assembly.

Sphere Tested Last March

The 3,500-ton sphere was successfully tested last March when it was filled with compressed air to a pressure of 37 pounds per square inch. This is 25 per cent above the design pressure of 29½ pounds per square inch.

With the test completed, two large temporary openings were cut through the 1½ inch thick steel to permit moving in material and equipment for installation inside the sphere.

The largest piece of equipment to be moved in will be the 300-ton reactor pressure vessel. It is inside this vessel that the fissioning will take place. The vessel is being fabricated by the New York Shipbuilding corporation at Camden, New Jersey.

It is so massive it must be shipped by water. It will be routed over the Atlantic and Gulf Intracoastal waterways to New Orleans and then up the Mississippi and Illinois waterways to the site. Delivery is expected late this year.

Village Supt. Edgar Simonsen and Mrs. Simonsen left on Monday for Chetek, Wis., for a week's visit.

Work on Dresden Nuclear Power Plant Nears Half-Way Mark

Work on the Dresden Nuclear Power Station is well ahead of schedule, newspapermen were told when they visited the plant last Friday. Situated between Joliet and Morris, Ill., just below the junction of the Des Plaines and Kankakee rivers which unite to form the Illinois River, the new plant of the Commonwealth Edison Company, will be the largest nuclear power reactor in the United States. It is expected to be in operation six months ahead of the contract date of Dec. 7, 1960.

Library News

To those of us who live in Northern Illinois, "The Other Illinois," by Bake Brownell, will be of great interest. It describes approximately the southernmost third of the state, which is the meeting place of great waters and also a hill country containing some of the most beautiful forest lands in America. Southern Illinois has the slower tempo of rural living and is greatly influenced by its great rivers. "The Other Illinois" was presented to the library in memory of Mrs. Violet Moseby.

Ishbel Ross has added another portrait to her gallery of fascinating American women with "First Lady of the South." Mrs. Jefferson Davis was born Varina Howell. She was a witty, strong-willed woman who exerted an incalculable influence on her husband and through him on the fortunes of the confederacy. "First Lady of the South" is on the library shelves in memory of Miss Elizabeth Webb.

"This is the Mass" is a beautiful book dedicated to a greater understanding of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Henri Daniel-Rops, the outstanding French Catholic writer, has provided the text describing each step of the Mass. Yusuf Karsh has photographed Bishop Fulton J. Sheen celebrating the Mass in his own lovely private chapel. "This is the Mass" was given in honor of Dennis Kennedy.

Life magazine has been a source of several lavishly illustrated volumes on man and his works. "The World's Great Religions" contains 190 pages of color photographs and art reproductions and more than 175,000 words of text covering Hinduism, Buddhism, the Chinese philosophies, Islam, Judaism, and Christianity. This book of great value in the battle against intolerance was given to the library in memory of Frank R. King and Lt. Col. Raymond King.

Antioch School Council Will Be Featured In Nat'l Magazine Article

The Antioch High School Student Council will be the subject of a feature article in Scholastic Magazine for its work in recent years in the Crusade for Freedom and Radio Free Europe.

MacK McBean, an official of the Crusade for Freedom notified Mrs. Jeanette Tulumello, Antioch High social science teacher, that the editors of Scholastic Magazine had indicated their desire to feature the Antioch Student Council in an article demonstrating the work of youth in the public education system.

The student council has been an active champion of the Crusade for Freedom for the past seven years, distributing information concerning the Crusade and soliciting funds for the work from area schools and the community.

The national headquarters of the Crusade for Freedom has recognized the work of the student council here in the past two years with the award of two plaques which have been placed in the main hall of the high school.

No Opponents To School Remodeling Program

No objections were heard today when the St. Joseph Camp for Boys petitioned the Lake County zoning board for a special permit to remodel some buildings at its Petite Lake site.

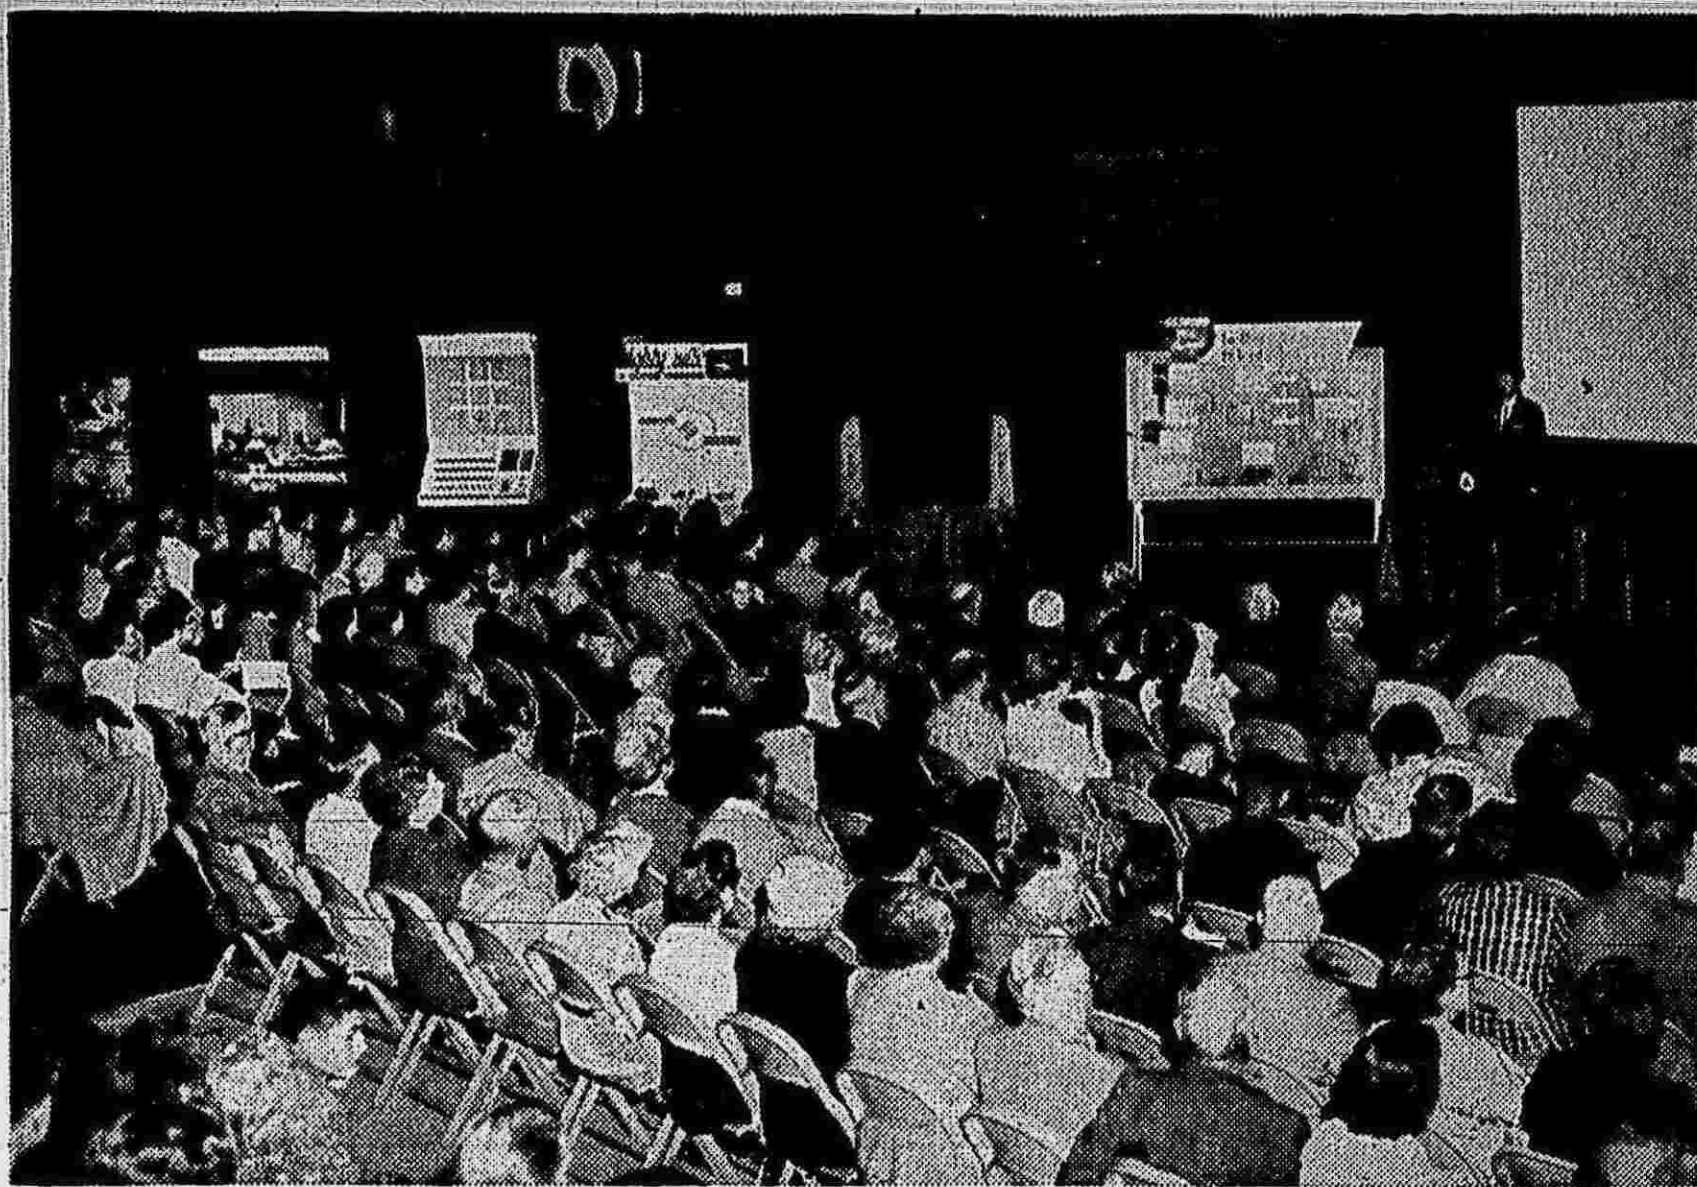

The hearing, in the Antioch Village hall, was held to establish a precedent for future such requests for alterations on buildings which antedate county zoning ordinances.

The school proposes to dismantle an existing building and remodel some existing structures.

Only about 15 per cent of America's 350,000 blind people can read braille with facility, according to the American Foundation for the Blind.

Crowd is Briefed on Program Presented by Bell Telephone Company

This is a portion of the near capacity crowd that attended the Community Night Program presented in the High School gymnasium by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. R. N. Hawkins at the right is shown explaining the program of motion pictures and the exhibits the people are about to see. The pictures were a traveling of Illinois. The exhibits were the mechanics of the operation of the telephone, especially the dial process which Antioch soon will have. Most of the guests took the opportunity to try the equipment that permitted them to hear their own voice. Other hosts for the two evenings, Tuesday and last night, were Mrs. N. Reichardt, chief operator, and E. O. Sullivan, wire chief.

Fall Doesn't Really Begin Until Oct. Sales Festival

The calendar says we're now into Fall but it won't be official until Oct. 17-18 when Antioch merchants present their season offerings at the big Fall Festival Sale.

Area stores will break out in a gala sea of colors with giant window pennants topping off the natural bright colors of the new autumn merchandise.

Mrs. Marion Pechousek, chairman of the Retail Merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce, said that more than just values will be offered the shoppers. A host of gift certificates will be given out by participating businessmen and lucky names will be drawn at two big drawings on each of the sale days.

In addition, children will be treated to big free shows at the Lakes Theatre, Mrs. Pechousek said.

Merchants and shoppers alike will go into this big sale event with a memory of a highly successful August promotion by the Chamber members.

Robert Trout, well-known news commentator, has recently completed recording a series of four half-hour radio shows for the American Foundation for the Blind.

ON THE BIBLE SIDE

EMANUEL THIELE

There are many religions in the world, how would I know which is right?

Yes, there are many religions, from the pagan gods of the ancient past to the varied forms of worship in this present day. Each may have some measure of virtue, else there would not be so great a following.

However, none of the religions have been able to offer the true virtues of a Living God which mean so much to a troubled soul.

The Bible, like none other book in the world, contains the oracles of a true God. Believe and obey its precepts and you will find "it works."

"Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." —John 14:6

"Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved."

—Acts 4:12

Atty. Ancel Declares New Court Plan Gives Villages Usual Fees

Atty. Louis Ancel, attorney for the Antioch Township High School, has issued a statement through the Committee for Modern Courts assuring the people of municipalities that they will lose no income from fines as the result of the abolishment of the justice of the peace and police magistrate offices.

Favoring the Blue Ballot Atty. Ancel stated flatly:

Municipalities will continue to receive fines and penalties from ordinance violations and traffic cases as presently provided by legislative acts which are completely unaffected by the judicial amendment up for approval on Nov. 4.

All salaries of new magistrates will be paid by the state, resulting in savings for the local community.

Sequoits Play Warren....

last week. "We are perhaps a year away," Walther commented. There are 16 juniors on the team.

Walther predicts a three team fight for the conference title between Grant, Grayslake, and Lake Forest with the Scouts having an edge in the competition.

Inexperience Cost Game

Inexperience proved costly to Antioch, Sequoits as they dropped a 12 to 6 decision at Wauconda last Saturday.

Thwarted at every turn by penalties and unable to stop the Bulldog offense, Antioch held on grimly until Wauconda drove for two touchdowns in the last half.

The Sequoits' sole scoring thrust was a lightning-like 36 yard off tackle slant by halfback Dick Gudgeon on Antioch's first play from scrimmage.

A bad Bulldog punt following the opening kickoff set up the Sequoits TD.

The rest of the first half was all Wauconda, but the home team never quite hit paydirt.

They rectified matters in the third quarter by climaxing a 60 yard drive with a six yard sweep around right end. Wauconda failed to convert as the Sequoits had earlier in the game, and the score was knotted at 6-6.

Showing "plenty of spirit" against a confused Sequoits squad, the Bulldogs again pushed into enemy territory during the final quarter. Not to be denied, a Wauconda back took a pitchout and scampered across the goal line for the winning counter.

A rueful resume of the contest shows that Antioch was charged with 125 yards in penalties, including the nullification of two touchdowns.

ECONOMY TV TOPICS

(By Harold "Pete" Peterson)

RADIO VS. TV

A radio may go five years, and sometimes longer without a servicing need. The average TV set may need five servings within a year. Most people will question this difference; thinking that the two electronics should have a similar servicing pattern.

Your radio contains about 200 parts. Your TV set contains at least five times that many, each dependent upon one another and each hundreds of times more sensitive and complex than radio parts. It is a wonder that a complex electronic like TV should attain the servicing record that it has.

AT ECONOMY TV, on Rte. 173, one mile west of Antioch, our servicing is kept up-to-date by the various informative publications that we subscribe to. These give us the latest information and advancements for the most modern and reliable servicing of television. Phone Antioch 1454 next time.
